Activity Sheet

We're All Amazing

'We're All Amazing' was written in response to the Black Lives Matter protests of 2020. We understand that it can be hard to know how to talk to young children about diversity and inclusion, but that it is vital to do so to create a better world for us and our children.

Helping children to believe that we are all amazing and our different parts make us unique and special is an important step in the conversation. The song helps to teach us all to love ourselves exactly how we are and celebrate our differences.

Activity Ideas

★ Ask your children to identify their own characteristics like in the song.

★ Try and write your own verses! Write your own lyrics with the children, using some amazing and unique things about them - they don't need to rhyme!

★ What's amazing about me? What's amazing about you? Try creating self portraits, asking them to identify things that make them unique and special.

We are different,
each of us
It's what makes us precious
